

New Paintings

Anneli Boon

'Dune'

Anneli has shown a number of times at Rivers Gallery and always been very well received. Her work is mixed media; not strictly painting but painted, not strictly a collage but uses collage methods to produce individual, colourful and exciting pieces.

Sarah Ross-Thompson

This is a collagraph print in an edition of only 20.

Using carefully constructed collage blocks her work combines the vibrant colours of oil-based printing inks with the textural qualities of the collage materials used in her collagraph blocks

WWW.RIVERSGALLERY.COM

Is
here

Rivers Gallery's new website is now up and running. I now have the tools and ability to make changes, to add and delete and promise to do so whenever new work comes in to the gallery.

I still intend to email out my newsletter and to send to those who are not online but these newsletters will usually only be sent out every two/three months whereas the website is likely to be updated much more regularly. So keep logging on please.

More New Work

Dick Onians

Suzie Marsh

Hare feeding leverets

Indian runner ducks

Don't forget to log on regularly to see new work as it arrives

Bye for now Judi

New Jewellery

Tanja Ufer

Tanja is not new to the gallery but it has been a while since I last showed her work. Here is a little taster for you.

This is a silver, fine gold and turquoise neck with matching earrings. Most of Tanja's work is delicate but at the same time quite earthy.

Michael Michaud

New shell pieces from Michael Michaud – bronze casting using lost wax method, silver and then gold coated.

Latham & Neve